"All this learning, what a bore."

1960 Prophecy

Dear Rosie,

I am sure happy to hear that you are head nurse at Sparrow Byrd hospital in Lansing. I've been looking up some of our old classmates. I saw Alice Stratton some time ago and she is happily married to the president of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. Carole Lee Kukhan is now employed as field manager of Nancy Taylor schools. And did you know that Joanne Hoose finally found a job which was suited to her talents? You know how she could pucker up when she kissed. Well, she is now a traveling lemon taster for the United Fruit Company. Nancy Mikesell is doing very well as the head of her own music school. Have you noticed in Space Age Magazine the wonderful cartoons drawn by Tom Wargo? Incidentally, while I was traveling, I rode in one of the Zippo travel Agency's rockets and found out that the chief mechanic was none other than Jim Irwin. Danny Day recently gave a party celebrating the production of the one-hundred billionth egg at his gigantic chicken farm. I read in the paper recently that Montreal, Canada staged a contest with a prize for the largest family. Our own Sharon Booren was the winner. She and her husband, Bum Kelch, performed the admirable feat of having 27 children in ten years. Betty McSherry has been doing modeling in the Caro Thrift Shop fashion shows. The male fashions were admirably modeled by another classmate, Ray Shaver. Paul Kuzma gained National Acclaim for his great talents in guiding a recent safari to Cat Lake. Yalon Phelps is serving the community for a Cub Scout Den Mother at Shay Lake. Lawson and Alma Bennet recently received an award for their outstanding work in the crossing of a horse and a cow to produce a cow that is easily milked. Did you hear that Charles Baxter recently won a prize at the garden show for his beautiful pink lilies. Recently, I read a book written about the author's life on a mule ranch in Western Australia. I was surprised to see that it had been written by Mary Dickerson. The book won her the Nobel prize for literature in 1971. Loretta TerBush and Willis Johnson are happily married and operating a successful motorcycle shop in Flint. We hear Loretta is a pretty good mechanic. Pat Lumly is owner and chief bartender at the North Grove Inn. She got the place in a divorce settlement from Douglas Schlattman, a prominent professor of English at Harvard University. We hear Marilyn Beach is stationed with her husband, an Air Force General, at the moon. Judy Clark is happily married to Fred Rietz, a successful flower seed salesman. I hear John Secord, Sandra Howard's husband, is director of orderlies at Sparrow Byrd Hospital where you are employed. When I visited home last, I went to the Tuscola County Fair and was surprised to see Esther Middleton working as a barker at the side show. I was even more surprised to see Charolette Davis and Doris Figel selling peanuts and
